GERMANY PUTS O. K. ON BRITISH ARMS PROPOSAL

World Conference Greet
Berlin's Decision
With Approval

ACT TERMED PROOF OF "MODERATION"

Roosevelt Message Hailed
As Manifestation of Peace

GENEVA, May 19.—Germany accepted the British disarmament plan today as a basis for an agreement to be reached by the world disarmament conference.

Rudolf Nadjoly informed the conference of the decision of his government.

Greeted With Approval

Manifestations of approval greeted Herr Nadjoly when he said that any German suggestions would dovetail with the British draft, which already had been accepted by all nations save Germany.

"I hope this will be regarded as new proof of German moderation," the Berlin delegate said.

He referred to President Roosevelt's disarmament message to the world as "another great manifestation of peace." His entire address was conciliatory.

Captain Edson of Great Britain emphasized the importance of Germany's decision to cooperate without stint, and spoke glowingly of the spirit in which the decision was announced.

Rene Massigli for France pledged his government's readiness to cooperate.

Will Cite Roosevelt

The conference voted to send a telegram to President Roosevelt, voicing appreciation for his disarmament proposals and assuring him that they would be given every consideration.

Before the German delegate announced the Berlin decision, Arthur Henderson, chairman of the conference, remarked that there were many conciliatory points in the disarmament speech made before the German Reichstag Wednesday by Chancellor Hitler.

Mr. Henderson said he was struck forcibly by the chancellor's warning that any new war would cause the collapse of the social and political order.

The conference presidents made an impassioned appeal to the delegates to reach a disarmament agreement before the world economic conference started in London, June would answer the appeal of President Roosevelt.

The British plan presented at the Geneva conference in March by Prime Minister Ramsey MacDonald.

Outstanding among its proposals was a suggestion that a conscript army of 200,000 men be substituted for the German Reichwehr, which is limited to 100,000 men by the treaty of Versailles. These men are volunteers and they must serve twelve years.

The British plan provided for a domestic army of 200,000.

Italy would be allowed a homeland army of 225,000 and an overseas force of 50,000. Austria's efforts would be fixed at 50,000, Hungary's 60,000 and Bulgaria's at 60,000.

The French "allies" would be reduced to Poland, 200,000; Rumania, 150,000; and Yugoslavia, 100,000.

LABOR TO BACK INDUSTRY PLAN

Green Endorses Roosevelt
Measure To Put Men
To Work

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 19.—With a qualified endorsement of the sales tax method of financing, William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, today placed labor squarely behind the public works industry control measure of President Roosevelt.

Testifying before the house ways and means committee, after Senator Wagner (D. N. Y.) had predicted the measure would put four million men to work, Green approved the bill.

Asked which of the four methods proposed by Budget Director Douglas he would use to finance public works, Green replied that the $3,300,000,000 bond issue for public works, Green replied that while labor "always has been uncompromisingly opposed to the principle of the sales tax," he personally would support the sales tax if the revenue was restricted to financing the public works bill and the tax used only during the emergency.

Green said that while labor would oppose the so-called break-fast tax program, it would not object to a raise in income taxes, imposition of income rates upon stock dividends, and a boost in gasoline taxes.

Honor graduates are Charles Pike, Dolores Drake and Marjorie Clunk while honorable mention awards went to Mary Roller, Helen Stacey, Anna Lou Dawson and LeWitt Williams.

$5,420 IS LISTED IN FIRST REPORTS

Teams Confident Campaign Will Go Over the Top Tonight When Complete Returns
Are Made By All Workers

Pledged to keep intact a long, unbroken record of filled Community Chests in which Salem has always proved itself willing to "do unto others", a confident array of more than 100 workers who Thursday had obtained $5,420.07 towards their quota of $12,900, today were to bring to a close the city's annual civic fund campaign.

A total of $7,479.93 was needed in pledges and cash contributions to fill the chest, but workers, facing squarely the fact that times are more difficult and donations harder to obtain, confidently expect to "go over the top" when they gather for final reports at the Elks club, East State st., tonight.

First Day's Reports
Drive executives, team captains and other workers gathered for reports of the first day's canvass at the Elks club Thursday evening with General Chairman Earl S. Kerr in charge. The following reports were given by team captains:

Team No. 1—George F. Koontz, $539.05.
Team No. 2—A. E. Beardmore, $554.50.
Team No. 3—D. J. Burcar, $589.
Team No. 4—E. S. Dawson, $654.25.
Team No. 5—R. S. McCulloch, $513.80.
Team No. 6—Mrs. Elizabeth Baker, $734.25.
Team No. 7—Mrs. Donald Montgomery, $567.50.
Team No. 8—Miss Mary Burson, $578.

Incomplete reports were also filed by Elizabeth Horne, in behalf of the school team, listing pledges totaling $379.72 while C. S. Carr reported collections totalling $310 from a partially covered out-of-town territory.

While total pledges for the opening day canvass fell slightly short of the half-way mark, workers nevertheless had reason for optimism in that no reports were yet available from the shop team headed by W. F. Holen and the city hospital team of which Miss Esther Wilson is chairman. Complete reports of these teams will be submitted at tonight's meeting.

Former Judge J. C. Boone, called on for an address by Chairman Kerr, called on workers to "forget any worries the depression may have brought to you; concentrate on filling the chest, Salem is back of you."

Predict Success
"Just as President Roosevelt will lead the United States through the depression, so Salem will go over the top. We'll always go over the top; our citizens will not fail us."

Others present were L. Frank Smith City Auditor Karl L. Webster, P. Troy Cope, R. S. McCulloch, A. E. Beardmore, Lloyd Jones and Atty. Charles T. Brooks.

Smith complimented workers for the success of the first day's campaign and explained the good that is accomplished from the money obtained in the chest drive. "A man who has opposed municipal bond issues and kept the city from further indebtedness," outlined activities of the city relief commission in welfare work among the poor.

Kerr then turned the meeting over to Campaign Manager L. P. Metzger who presented Lloyd Jones, manager of the E. W. Bliss company. Jones gave an interesting and humorous talk and issued a general plea for all who can to give to the community fund.

Metzger expressed confidence that the goal of $12,900 will be reached and passed in second-day pledges.

Musical entertainment was provided by Mr. and Mrs. John W. Hundertmark and their sons, John L. and Fred.

RULE OF REASON

It is obvious that distress in the bituminous coal industry, both in Ohio and neighboring states, is too great to permit calm thinking. Miners and operators have been hit from two directions. Technological changes had reduced the market for bituminous coal long before depression's effects began to be felt. Depression closed or reduced many of the markets that were left.

While there was nothing to look forward to but a continuance of deflation, miners and operators literally were working in the dark when they attempted to reconcile their differences. Operators knew their interests were being sacrificed. To meet competition they were obliged to ask labor to make severe concessions.

But miners, too, were in extremities. Their earning power, never large, was being reduced past the living wage level. Lower rates and curtailment of working time had driven them to desperation. They became more than usually responsive to the incitements of agitators. Friction with management resulted.

Everything possible has been done to surmount the extreme difficulties of the situation. Apparently, the conciliators have failed. Unless new factors are introduced, a large part of the bituminous coal industry in Ohio will be thrown into the ghastly futility of another period of hostility.

No means of avoiding this should be overlooked. If the influence of the federal government can do any good, it should be exercised. Industry of all kinds is looking forward and moving forward. Rescue is promised from a revival of business. Unfortunately, the effects will not be felt immediately in the bituminous coal industry, although it should be one of the first to benefit. Is not the industry's wisest course, therefore, to apply the rule of reason and wait for the effects of the only force which can make it profitable once more? It is folly to give up in despair when rescue has been promised.

NEW ORDER OF THINGS

Stock quotations rose several points when the market heard what Chancellor Hitler had to say to the world. But even had they risen much higher, they still would have lagged behind the elevating spirit of thoughtful men and women in every nation.

They had heard previously the president of the most powerful single nation on earth commit his government to the cause of peace. They had heard the fiery chancellor of perhaps the most distressed nation on earth declare that his people could wait a little longer for solution of their difficulties.

From settling gloom the scene changed quickly to one of slowly emerging sunlight. By the power of words—words which expressed vitally important attitudes—a new order of hope was created. For the first time in many weeks the statesmen of Europe were able to think more about possibilities of peace than about probabilities of war.

It is easy, of course, to exaggerate the lasting importance of events like these, which seem at the moment to have altered radically the appearance of things. But to guard against relapses into pessimism there are these factors.

Europe cannot afford to engage in war. It has been forced to think of war not as the means by which any nation or group would be able to gain anything but as the means by which certain nations could save themselves from losses. Europe does not want war; it simply is forced to face the possibility of war.

It has been forced to think in terms of war largely because of the effects of worldwide depression. Populations long distressed have become frantic. Statesmen have reflected their mood. Since it is a condition caused by certain unfavorable circumstances, it is logical to believe that the condition could be changed for the better by alterations of those circumstances. There is more reason to believe now than there has been for months that international cooperation will alter them. For the time being, therefore, there is justification for an optimistic outlook. A new order of things is potential.

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland
New York City

A Baffling Affliction of Infancy
"Celiac disease" is one about which the average person seldom hears. But if you have ever seen a child suffering from this affliction you appreciate the distress and real alarm it can cause.

This is a disease of infants and is most common between the ages of nine and eighteen months. Some children are more susceptible to it than others. It is found more frequently among bottle-fed babies than breast-fed infants. Celiac disease knows no class distinction. Children of the rich as well as of the poor are liable to it.

The emaciated appearance of the child terrifies and frightens the mother. The child shows definite signs of arrested growth and development. The young victim is underweight, under-sized, tires easily and is unable to sit up.

In celiac disease the body is unable properly to utilize fats, starches and sugars in the diet. Little benefit is obtained from the food consumed. The body suffers from this loss of nourishment. Because of loss of weight and vitality the child becomes susceptible to other childhood diseases.

Diet Is Important
The child may progress slowly. Usually it is first brought to the attention of the parent or physician by the anemic appearance of the sufferer. But too often the real cause of the disease is overlooked. Teething or weaning is offered in explanation. Let me assure you that neither teething nor weaning can explain the marked changes found in children suffering from celiac disease.

To overcome the ill effects of this disease, it is advisable to give a diet containing little fat and fibrous material. For this reason skimmed milk or skimmed lacteal acid milk is given to the infant for several days. As the child shows signs of improvement, cottage cheese, egg, scraped beef, sieved liver, gelatin, mashed vegetables and fruits can be added to the diet.

Within recent years tremendous strides have been made in the treatment of celiac disease by the use of the banana diet. Infants and young children suffering from this ailment have been greatly benefited by the feeding of bananas. Fortunately, it may be given to infants as well as older children. When given to infants the strained ripe pulp of the fruit is used with a portion of milk.

The cause of this strange disease has never been discovered. Much research work is being conducted all over the world in an effort to solve this strange childhood malady. It is probable that lack of fresh fruits and vegetables in the diet of the infant may account for the disturbance.

Bear in mind that strained vegetables and fresh stewed fruits may be included in the diet of the infant as early as the sixth month. For older children, I would encourage the eating of cereals, a daily quart of milk, fresh fruits and vegetables. During the winter months give cod liver oil. The children should be given the beneficial action of the sun.

NEW YORK, May 19—Thoughts while strolling. Beer everywhere. But they beef about the wallow. Odd how one of such untheatrical temperament as Winthrop Ames is so infatuated with the theater. Whatever became of jaw-breakers with a caraway seed center? O. Soglow is the size of his king caricature.

Herbert Corey, a Toledo, O. boy, who made good in the city. And like Will Rogers, has ridden the range. Myra Kinsley suggests a light from a star. Nobody expresses the peppermint quality of Eva Tanguay on the stage today. Wonder if others also hanker for elastic-sided shoes.

One of my favorite people—Percy Hammond. That queer little pucker in Queenie Smith's smile. And the frank open countenance of a chow. The cauliflower boys around the entrance to Jack Dempsey's Broadway offices. And what ex-champion has been idolized so long!

Those roccoco furnishings suggesting illicit romance. And what suggests it more than ostrich plumed mules? I wish Christopher Morley would re-discover old Chelsea—sullen brick houses, window cats, cellar estaminets, door scrapers and seedy estafettes who ride pie-bald ponies in front of freight trains.

One word description of Mae West—gristley. To the army of chorus girls he has trained. Ned Weyburn is "High Pockets." Arthur Moss postcards they are dying poodles pink in Paree. Fun's fun, but it's tough to make a sissy out of a pooch. There's enough of the human kind.

Bert Ennis, a scholarly observer, three-sheets attention to need of a purge for radio vulgarity. Since the kick-off, broadcasting had little unseemly ribaldry for the very reason children are potential listeners. Yet lately there has crept in rowdy references to cathartics, tapeworms and the other morning someone spoke of "Louie the Louie."

And cascades further disillusionment that radio applause is largely inspired. Audiences in studios are directed when to start the hand-clapping and at what point to cease by means of cards held aloft by attendants.

For years I have been one of the amateur magicians boring company insufferably on long winter nights with clumsy prestidigitations. As a result I have spent precious hours prowling about magic shops and specialized establishments catering to professionals. Houdini, taught me one evanishment he claimed to have originated, and known to no other save his wife. My library on magic is small but comprehensive. The other day a storage warehouse reported the loss of two trunks, lodged there when launching a bravura in housekeeping. Today I learned they contained my magic paraphernalia—collected over a period of 20 years. Magic has played no part in my life for six years, yet tonight somehow I feel an Ed Wynn without hats.

At old Hammerstein's an Australian magician carried a lion for a disappearing act. After one matinee the runway to its cage fell, and the beast walked through an alley to the street. Pedestrians shunned up shade trees and lamp posts. The lion ambled amiably to the front of a saloon and haunched directly before the entrance. Everybody cringed, waiting for rifle-men. Then in sudden horror they saw a drunk who lurched unconcernedly through the swing doors and passing the lion reached down, patted its head and staggered on. I have thought the incident a magnificent comedy cliché for a movie short.

Speaking of loose animals, Central Park and Riverside Drive have become a stalking grounds for dangerous and unleashed police dogs. On two occasions I have seen them tear into smaller and harmless pets and rip them open. Sickening!

Eddie Fink, long familiar to patrons of rejuvenated Luchow's as baton wielder, was surrounded by a group of Nazi sympathizers protesting against his appearance at a place controlled by German Jews. "Don't be ridiculous!" he gagged. "I work at a Chinese place, Lu Chow's!"—and tripped blithely on.

How many days in the month do you feel your best? You can add to these sunshine days by simply obeying nature's laws.

The first of these laws is regular elimination. Avoid common constipation by eating a delicious cereal.

Tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN furnishes "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to help aid regularity. ALL-BRAN also contains twice the iron of an equal weight of beef liver.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. How much more pleasant than pills and drugs—so often habit-forming.

Serve as a cereal or use in cooking. Directions on the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

"BABIES, JUST BABIES"
Prior to entrance to the White House, Mrs. Roosevelt edited the interesting magazine by the above title. This periodical has temporarily suspended publication, but many who liked it hope it will resume at an early date.

The men folks may not fully realize how very important is the subject covered by such literature. The character and habits of the younger generation are largely shaped in infancy. "As the twig is bent, the tree inclines." If you give a little child a good start in health and obedience, you have won almost half the battle for its future. A little child's mind can be shaped like putty, but when it hardens in older years it is as difficult to mould as cement.—Newark Advocate.

WORLD WAITING
WHAT ABOUT DOLLARS?
QUEER THINGS

By Arthur Brisbane

(Copyright, 1933 By King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

THE world looks forward to the so-called "economic conference" in London.

These home regions, between the Atlantic and Pacific, might as well know what that economic conference really is. It is a scheme, contrived with cleverness, to open the markets of the United States to workmen, manufacturers and capitalists of other nations. That is exactly what it is, and it is nothing else.

Other nations got ten billions of American dollars, which they are going to keep. They got the use of 3,000,000 American soldiers, some now dead, nearly all impoverished by that trip "over there."

All the foreign nations want now is the markets of America, that their foreign workmen may supply goods that Americans buy and that is the object of the "economic conference."

WE HAVE pushed our dollar off the gold basis and gone in for inflation, which will make dollars more plentiful, stimulating business and increasing prices of labor's products.

The question now is, what is to be done with those "more plentiful" American dollars? Will they be paid to American workmen for producing things that Americans use, or will they be paid to foreign workmen for producing goods to be imported under low tariffs or no tariffs at all?

Talking about taking off our tariffs and throwing the markets of the United States open to foreign labor and foreign manufacturers, when we have 12,000,000 men out of jobs in the United States, is idiocy. If by any chance you agree with this diagnosis, you might write about it to your congressman and your two senators.

THANKS to Senator Norris of Nebraska, who seems strangely interested in the people that send him to Congress. President Roosevelt ordered an inquiry into conditions at Muscle Shoals. You were told, you may remember, that it would be wicked to let the people use that power plant for themselves, in spite of the fact that they paid for it. It would never do for the government "to go into business for itself."

Now President Roosevelt, from his private investigations, receives charges that eminently respectable gentlemen running power plants have, in plain English, been "stealing the power of Muscle Shoals" from the government and the people.

Strange how certain things are wrong if the government does them, even using its own property, is wrong, while certain other very queer things are all right if a private company does them.

WOOD-DESTROYING, termites, incorrectly called "ants," have made their appearance in New York, cause worry for the big city.

Termites, usually active only in warm climates, destroy wood, boring from within, causes houses to collapse, wreck piling. They travel under ground, unseen. The mayor of New York, if interested, can get unlimited information about these strange little enemies by visiting one of the scientific departments of the University of California at Berkeley, across the bay from San Francisco.

There he will find learned men with regiments of termites in all stages of experimentation.

NIELS BOHR, great physicist of Copenhagen, is in Pasadena, discussing atoms with Professor Millikan and other wise men.

To the atom Niels Bohr is what Copernicus was to the solar system. Copernicus could tell something about the solar system, and how it worked, but never got it quite right. That was left to Galileo and others.

Niels Bohr was one of the first to investigate and report on that smallest and invisible solar system, the atom, in which ultra-visible electrons revolve around the invisible protons trillions of times in a second, jumping out of their orbits and coming back again, supplying the heat and the light of the sun, as its atoms throw off their electrons into space.

WALLACE, Idaho — The mayor and the chief of police were put to rout here the other night when Mayor Emil Pfister and Chief of Police W. J. Bailey were humbled before Jay B. Ostrander, a druggist. Ostrander broke up a three-handed pinochle game by drawing 1500 trump in spades.

DESIGNED FOR LARGER SIZES
Pattern 2636

What is the smart way for the matron with a "not-too-slender" figure to achieve the coveted silhouette of the new mode? The secret is told in today's sketch—to wear only those lines that flatter and slenderize and to choose only those prints that will not accentuate fullness. Note in Pattern 2636 the smart bodice treatment, sleeves with graceful flares, snug hip yoke and pointed seaming.

Pattern 2636 may be ordered only in sizes 36, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48 and 50. Size 28 requires 3 5/8 yards 39 inch fabric and 1-6 yard 8 inch lace. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included with pattern.

Paid In Full

COLUMBUS, O., May 19—Payment in full of depositors' claims in liquidation of the Farmers' Bank of Martinsville was reported by Ira J. Fulton, state superintendent of banks.

He said stockholders had asked the banking department to continue liquidation for their benefit. Liquidation began July 27, 1931.

Very reticent about why they did it, Jane Orr, 18 (left), and Eleanor Carberry, 19, of Westfield, N. J., are pictured before immigration officials on their return to New York from England after their stowaway trip. The girls hid aboard the Berengaria when the liner was bearing Premier Ramsay MacDonald home after his talks with President Roosevelt. They were discovered in mid-Atlantic and shipped back home from England.

COBB-DERR

An embankment of lilacs in the living room made a beautiful setting for the wedding of Miss Mabel Cobb and Arthur Lamorne Derr, which was an event of noon Thursday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joel Cobb, North Ellsworth ave.

Rev. Frank Davis, Sandy Lake, Pa., uncle of the bride, officiated, assisted by Rev. C. F. Bailey, pastor of the First Friends church, Walter Regal, brother-in-law of the groom, played the bridal chorus from Lohengrin as the young people came into the room. There were no attendants.

The immediate families of the couple witnessed the nuptials. The bride was gowned in a creation of yellow flat crepe, like a corsage bouquet was of roses and lilies of the valley.

Dinner was served after the ceremony. The table appointments were in yellow and white. A tiered wedding cake, on the top of which was a miniature bride and groom, centered the table. Candles formed part of the decorations.

Mrs. Derr, a teacher by profession, is a graduate of Salem High school, and attended Asbury Holiness college, Wilmer, Ky., and Kent state college, Kent. Mr. Derr is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Derr, East Fifth st. He graduated from Salem High school and Wittenburg college, Springfield, and is supervisor of music in the Phillipsburg, O., public schools. He also teaches English in the high school and is vocational guide. Mr. Derr is well known as a soloist in musical circles here.

Mr. and Mrs. Derr left Thursday afternoon on a motor trip to Niagara Falls and Canada. Mrs. Derr's traveling costume was grey crepe. They will spend the summer here and next autumn will go to Phillipsburg to make their home.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were: Mrs. Davis, aunt of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Greener of Columbiana.

Five years ago today Mr. and Mrs. Herman Stratton, brother-in-law and sister of the bride, were married by Rev. Davis.

HI-TRI PARTY

Spring flowers were used to make the tables attractive when members of the Hi-Tri of Salem High school gave a dinner party for their mothers Thursday evening at the Methodist Episcopal church. There were 80 in the company.

Miss Anna Hanson, president of the unit, was in charge. Mrs. S. A. Mayer was the main speaker. Her theme was "A Bouquet of Flowers."

Miss Dorothy Wright gave the toast to "Mothers", and the response was by Mrs. Irving Megrall. Miss Kathryn Cesena offered a vocal solo and a piano solo was contributed by Miss Dorothy McCumber.

MISS COBB TO WED

Announcement is made of the approaching marriage of Miss Dorothy Cobb and Russell Pearson, which will be an event of June 12.

This announcement was made to 16 friends of the bride-elect at a party given by Miss Grace Windram Thursday evening at her home, North Ellsworth ave.

A two-course supper was served by Mrs. H. J. Windram, mother of the guests.

The guests were seated at a table beautifully arranged in pink and crystal and lighted with candles. Lilies of the valley and bleeding hearts formed the centerpiece.

In the pink and white favors were concealed "walnuts" containing the pictures of the honoree and groom. The date of the wedding was written on a band under the pink ribbon holding the nut halves together.

During the evening games were played and prizes awarded to Miss Helen Koonits and Miss Phoebe Ellen Parsons.

Miss Cobb is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Cobb, North Broadway. Mr. Pearson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Pearson, is employed by the J. C. Penney company at Beaver Falls, Pa.

Both young people are well known in Salem.

GERMANY O.K.'S ARMS PROPOSAL

World Conference Greet Berlin's Decision With Approval

mania 150,000; and Czechoslovakia 100,000; Russia would have 500,000 men.

Extends London Treaty

The British plan also provided for extending the London naval treaty to include France and Italy. It extended the naval holiday on capital ships to all powers except Italy, which would be permitted to build one ship to balance the new French cruiser Dunkirk.

Germany would be freed legally from the naval restrictions imposed by the treaty of Versailles, but actually her naval power would be fixed at the present level until 1936.

The arms treaty proposed by the British would remain in force five years. During that period special international commissions would be created to attempt to settle the political problems now disturbing Europe. A second general arms conference would be held before the expiration of the five-year period.

Mr. MacDonald also suggested limitation of military aircraft, giving these specific figures: United States, 500 airplanes; Great Britain, 500; France, 500; Japan, 500; Italy, 500; and fewer planes for other countries. He did not suggest a maximum for Germany. Under the restrictions of the treaty of Versailles, now in force, the Germans may not have either military airplanes or submarines.

Persons who want anything know that this is the way to peace in this vicinity. So read it.

P. J. McCumber Dies In N. Dakota Home

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Nearly two score years' service in public life was at an end today for former Senator Porter J. McCumber of North Dakota.

Wisconsin's Milk Strike Is Ended

(By Associated Press)
MADISON, Wis., May 19.—The Wisconsin Cooperative Milk Pools' strike, which lasted for six days and resulted in one death and the use of half the state's militia force to combat widespread disorders, ended today.

However, the national guardmen continued to patrol trouble zones to prevent groups over which the pool has no control from interfering with the marketing of dairy products. Adjutant General Ralph M. Imnell said he would issue instructions for the withdrawal of the troops later in the day.

A three and a half hour conference in the office of Gov. A. G. Schmedeman ended last night in agreement whereby the pool promised to cease picketing activities and the governor agreed to appoint a farmer-controlled committee to study the problems of agriculture.

Test for Tax Bill Looming Next Week

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, May 19.—Given a new lease on life by the house taxation committee, Gov. White's sales tax bill will face its crucial test next week.

A motion to postpone action on the bill indefinitely was voted down by the committee, which, however, eliminated the coupon system of collecting the proposed tax. Defeat of the motion came on a tie vote of 9 to 9.

Saw Death Coming

MARION, O., May 19.—Two weeks before she was slain, Mrs. Nora Coffey of Springfield had a premonition of her death, said her aunt, Mrs. Louise Cornwell, of Marion.

On a visit to the Cornwell home, Mrs. Coffey begged her aunt to accompany her home, explaining she feared she would never see her again, Mrs. Cornwell related.

The woman's body, a bullet through the head, was found in the Little Miami river, near Xenia.

Where Man Triumphed Again Over Nature

An excellent general view of the huge Boulder Dam site at Las Vegas, Nev., as it appeared following the final blast that diverted the course of the Colorado River into the specially-constructed tunnels along the sides of the Black Canyon, leaving the spot where the giant spillway is to be built practically dry. With the course of the river diverted, engineers say that the most difficult problem has been overcome.

U. S. Treasury Gets Millions From Beer

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Legalization of beer brought $9,139,687 into the government's tolls during April.

The $5 a barrel tax netted $8,269,032; licenses $869,811, and 32 wine tax $824.

The tax collections were for only 23 days from April 7 when the new brew became legal. If the collections continue at the same rate the total for the year would be about $135,000,000, a figure somewhat under previous estimates of about $150,000,000.

The internal revenue department's report for April showed that the grand total of all taxes for that month was about $153,000,000 less than March but $34,000,000 more than collected in April, 1932. The March figure was swelled by $173,000,000 in income taxes.

The Stars Say:

For Saturday, May 20

Another day of rather minor planetary influences is presaged, although a strong position of mutual aspect between Mercury and Saturn encourages industry, application, practical shrewdness in furthering all projects and plans, particularly where the co-operation of elderly persons or institutions is desired.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of increase of fortune and accumulation of possessions through practical individual plans and projects.

A child born on this day should be solidly equipped mentally and practical, versatile and responsible, attracting attention of those in power and authority.

Notable nativity: Rose Hawthorne Lathrop, founder Cancer hospital.

LEGISLATURE HIGHLIGHTS

(By Associated Press)

Thumbnail sketch of activities in the legislature.

The question of final adjournment probably will be decided early next week. A resolution fixing the date as June 8 was introduced in house by Rep. Lawrence (D) of Cuyahoga county.

Before adjourning, however, the law-makers must pass a taxation program and a showdown on Gov. White's sales tax bill is expected by Tuesday or Wednesday.

A attempt to kill the bill was defeated when the house taxation committee voted down a motion to postpone action indefinitely. The much argued coupon system of collecting the proposed tax was eliminated, however.

The next committee vote will determine whether the sales levy will go to the house floor for final disposition. Administration forces are confident it will.

The Lewis resolution asking congressional investigation of an I. C. C. order invalidating Ohio's reduced intrastate coal freight rates was adopted by the senate. Also approved by the upper branch were the Keller bill to authorize municipalities to use materials other than oil to alley street dust. The Yoder bill provides four-year terms for county prosecutors, and the McCleskey-Gillespie bill to include Willerville university instructors in the state teachers retirement system.

Rejected by the senate was the McCrystal bill to require special licenses for trout fishermen. The house defeated the Pringle bill to reorganize justice of peace courts in Cuyahoga county.

A bill passed by the house would place private motor carriers under the jurisdiction of the utilities commission.

Rep. Haeffner (R) of Mahoning, introduced a resolution to memorialize congress to enact legislation requiring national banks to provide an insurance system based on resources and deposits.

The house refused to reconsider the Roberts bill to require quarterly inspection of automobiles. A new conference committee was named to reconsider the old age pension bill.

Rep. Ingersoll (D) of Summit would preserve for posterity the debates of the general assembly. He introduced a resolution which would require the clerks to install recording devices for future legislatures.

Rep. O'Neil (D) of Summit presented a bill to require minimum wage scales for women and minors through arbitration boards.

Gold Star Mothers Sail on Sad Pilgrimage

Daily waving the flag for which their boys died, Gold Star mothers are shown as they sailed from New York for France to visit the graves of their hero sons. At the right Kermit Roosevelt, son of the former President, is seen saying goodbye to Kate Mike, an Indian mother from Wisconsin. The first group of 1933 to go to France as guests of the U. S. government consisted of 134 mothers from 25 states.

Flashes of Life

KANSAS CITY, May 19.—A Chinese peasant, found floating down a gutter following a heavy rain pursued his unnatural aquatic ambitions to the bitter end. Taken to the farm of Mayor Bryce B. Smith, he swam half way across a large lake seven times. Six times he was rescued.

WHITEFISH, Mont.—Charles Hull, who is to be graduated from high school next month, isn't worried about employment. His goat herd is kidding.

Nine kids arrived in the past week. Mamie contributed quadruplets. White Nuisance triplets, and old Shandy Mollie twins.

And when his goat milk customers don't buy all the milk, Charles uses the surplus to fatten beef feeders.

CORRY, Pa.—Police called to investigate a shooting and said Lee Munsee held his hand in front of James Flaherty and told the latter he could not hit the outstretched member with a bullet.

Munsee is in a hospital with a damaged palm. Flaherty is in jail.

VENTURA, Calif.—A spider and a fly put on a hectic battle—right in Fred Langer's ear.

Langer, hoeing weeds, heard a buzz in his right ear, and then felt a sharp pain. He consulted a doctor, who removed a dead fly and a live spider.

SEATTLE, Wash.—Nine great grandmothers and 40 grandmothers went back to school. More than 100 mothers also were on hand.

It was the annual "Grandma's day" at Daniel Bagley school.

BALTIMORE—The rewards of burglary are really hardly worth the trouble, if the case of George Fuka presents an accurate gauge.

Caught in a grocery, police said he admitted entering 14 business houses during a two year period. The operations netted $268.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F.—Business was dead, so a casket firm decided to enliven it by auctioning coffins.

Dapper smartness in a 17-jewel, narrow, streamlined Gruen, curved to a man's wrist.

Damper on Beer

READ THE WANT COLUMN

Ruling that both the Colorado and Federal laws regulating the sale of 3.2 per cent beer are "clearly invalid" because they seek to "thwart and evade the 18th Amendment," District Judge Claude C. Coffin (above), of Denver, Colo., is believed to have provided the Drys with an excuse to bring the matter before the U. S. Supreme Court. Applicants for licenses to sell beer in Greeley, Colo., were refused permission to sell the brew.

For Chesterfields to Satisfy

It takes barrels of money —
— put away for 30 months

THEY ARE MILD
and yet they Satisfy

Four miles of warehouses are used to store our tobaccos. The crops now in storage are worth about $70,000,000 . . . most of it for Chesterfield Cigarettes.

The Domestic kinds are packed away in wooden hogheads that weigh 1,000 pounds and stand as high as a man's head.

Like fine wine, tobacco improves with age. So after our buyers select, from the various markets, the right kind of tobacco for Chesterfield, we put it away for 30 months or more to become mellow and sweet.

This ageing process is expensive, but there is no short-cut to make tobaccos milder—to make them taste better. It just takes money and time to make Chesterfields.

DEMING BLANKED BY G. EAGLE IN SECOND BATTLE

Big Six-Run Rally In 7th Wins for Foremen's Club Combine

YOUTZ SHUTS OUT FOE TO WIN, 9-0

Cigars Oppose Hardware, Billiards Play Dairy In Games Today

Smacking out 14 hits for 21 bases, the Mullins Foremen's club softball team grabbed its fourth consecutive victory in Class A softball league competition Thursday evening, outclassing the Calkins Chicks by an 11-4 score.

Tally Six In Seventh

The triumph enabled the Mullins to combine to continue as the circuit's only undefeated team and proved the body-makers again as among the league's most powerful aggregation. The Chicks, through the defeat, dropped from second to fifth place.

Six runs tallied in the seventh inning gave the Foremen's club its big edge, the contest being close and well played up until that inning.

Bob Campbell continued his early season batting spree with two hits in four trips to the plate with Ted Scott, clouting two doubles, as the batting star for the losers. Martin Debnar hit for three bases.

Youtz Blanks Deming The Golden Eagle advanced into the victory column for the first time when "Ducky" Youtz pitched brilliantly to shut out the Deming company team, 9-0.

Youtz allowed his rivals but four hits to register the second shutout performance of the season.

The United Cigars tackle the Salem Hardware in today's first game at 5:30 with the Schafer Billiards opposing the Famous Dairy in the second game.

Fit for Da Shark

Although Primo Carnera, giant Italian contender to the world's heavyweight championship, is standing on his head here, he is confident that Jack Sharkey, whom he is to meet in June for the title, can't make him re-enact this feat. Da Preem is training in New York for the bout which he hopes will put a crown on the summit of Mount Carnera.

ALLEN RETURNS TO YANKS; WINS OVER TIGERS, 5-1

Star of Last Year Comes Back; Hildebrand Wins Sixth Straight

(By Associated Press)
Johnny Allen, most effective pitcher in the American league last year, is back in action again and the hopes of the New York Yankees have risen another notch.

Trims Tigers 5-1

Laid low by influenza during the training season, Allen came through in great style in his first start yesterday and beat the Detroit Tigers, 5-1. He allowed only five hits, struck out six and in general showed a return to the form that brought him 17 victories against only four defeats last year.

Another "sophomore" flinger, Lanky Oran Hildebrand of Cleveland kept the Indians' Washington duel going full tilt as he won his sixth straight victory in a tough ten inning battle with Earl Whitehill. The final count was 6 to 5 and it put the teams back into a second place tie.

George Earnshaw, making his first appearance for the Athletics since April 24, limited the Chicago White Sox to six hits and the A's won 9 to 1.

The Browns took an 8-2 victory over the Red Sox.

Johnson Blanks Braves

Silas Johnson, Cincinnati Reds' right hander, was the day's National league star. He turned in his second one-hit game of the season to beat the Boston Braves, 1 to 0 and gave Cincinnati sole possession of fourth place. A single by Buck Jordan was the only blow he allowed. Chick Hefey's triple in the seventh led to the winning run.

The Dodgers uncorked an eight-run first inning rally to beat St. Louis 14 to 5, sending the Cards down a notch in the standing.

The league leading Pirates gained a half game on the New York Giants as they beat the Phillies for the fourth straight time, 6 to 2.

The Giants split a doubleheader with the Chicago Cubs that marked the raising of the National league pennant at Wrigley field. Hal Schumacher's nifty elbowing won the first game for New York, 3-0, then the Cubs stepped out with a slugging attack that included homers by Babe Herman, Gabby Hartnett, Harvey Hendrick and Mark Koenig, to win the second 10 to 1.

Wittenberg Tennis Team Beats Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, May 19.—Wittenberg college's tennis team won both doubles matches and two of the five singles events to defeat the University of Cincinnati.

Capital Triumphs

WESTERVILLE, May 19.—Twelve Otterbein errors helped Capital university to win 12 to 11 in a baseball game that went 12 innings. Each team got 15 hits.

Barth Injured, Not To Appear On Mitt Card Here Tonight

With Carmen Barth, Cleveland world amateur champion, injured in a training bout, fight committee-men of the American Legion post today were making a hurried, last-minute hunt for a capable substitute to replace him in the main bout of the boxing show tonight at the Memorial building.

Has Ear Abscess

Barth is suffering from an ear abscess which developed suddenly Thursday morning after he sustained a minor injury in a bout with Ed Jackson, a Cleveland lad who will appear on tonight's card.

Word of Barth's injury was immediately telephoned by his manager, Manny Robins, to Salem. Robins reported that he will bring Barth to Salem as proof of his injury but said that, because of the seriousness of an ear abscess will not permit him to go on tonight.

Freddie Edwards, welterweight champion of West Virginia, Alex Simms, noted Canton veteran, and other popular battlers will be approached as replacement for Barth. The latter's sub will oppose Ray Lyle of Barbours.

Promised Good Show

A good show is promised by Legionnaires in spite of the substitution. The first bout is booked at 8:30 but delays will be made at the request of Community Chest workers who are meeting at the Elks club.

THE DAY IN SPORTS

FEAT OF JOE SAVOLDI
TUDLES MAT SITUATION

JOE SAVOLDI'S defeat, or, her, his failure to win at the hands of Ed "Strangler" Lewis the night before, has confused the heavyweight wrestling situation. Savoldi, the jumping Joe of the Dame football fame, already had a large amount of wrestling stipe when he met up with Jim Lados, the Greek, at Chicago. He given the decision over Lados, though Jim "no like" the verdict, claiming the fall was not clean. Initially, the Lados-Savoldi bout been billed as for the world's championship, but when Savoldi given the verdict, Lados is to have asserted the title was involved.

Anyway, after getting the nod Lados, Savoldi was signed by Curley for three matches. If had won all three Savoldi would have been in line for an outdoor extravaganza during the summer. A Jim Browning, a leading manager of the championship, as of the principals, and jumping as the other.

THE THIRD MATCH of the key series was with old Ed Lewis, not more than 9,000 of the 10, who saw the bout expected to Savoldi win. But Joe, after grappling the aged Lewis, elected to try his "flying drop kick," he he jumped into the air and landed in the chest. The really hurt Lewis, or so it is said. Savoldi tried a third kick, he dodged. Savoldi went through ropes, crashed to the stone floor, and had to be carried to his dressing room.

It is Savoldi and not Lewis has been shelved temporarily. The result may have ended Jack Curley's dreams of a big mer show. Naturally Browning has to be of the principals. But there is assurance that Lados would be to meet Browning, nor is it any that a Lewis-Browning would be a Grade A attraction. For it was from Lewis that wning took his title claims.

Now that Savoldi has lost to Lewis he may be inclined to accept the order of the Illinois Athletic Commission to give a turn bout to Lados. The latter already has posted his forfeit for such a bout.

HE RASSEL racket is the big in Cleveland tonight for there Lados, ex-waiter from Youngstown and Canton, meets John Pesek, ther of the numerous titular men who says he has been sing Lados all around the country for a bout for three years. He ballyhoo for the Lados-Pesek bout has been built up for 3. Everywhere Pesek went he his audiences how Lados led meeting him; he called the ek Adonis all kinds of names, ug adjectives that aren't exactly ular with men of the cloth. He ed and sputtered wherever dos' name was mentioned.

ment was his way, unaffected. A ntion must get used to being ed, challenged, and then cured e more. And besides, why id he accept Pesek's defy? John much too good to risk a title and besides, Pesek wasn't in the New York mob and might se to drop his shoulders to the ras per schedule.

at now they meet and probably largest crowd in Cleveland ras history will be on hand for the e.

GET YOUR SEAT for the merican Legion fight show toght at the Memorial building. e fact that Carmen Barth is hurt won't be any big ndicap to the attractiveness i the card; Alex Simms or e other good middleweight ll be in there tossing punches th Ray Lyle and there'll be ths galore.

Canada's Davis Cup Stars

Here are two of Canada's brightest hopes in the Davis Cup matches, in which they are to oppose the United States shortly. At left is Gilbert Nunn, who shaped up well in the first game of the Davis Cup elimination trials at Hot Springs, Va., when he defeated Lorenzo Nodarse, of the Cuban team. At right is Dr. Jack Wright, Canada's ace racketeer, whose victory over Ricardo Morales of Cuba in the second cup match placed him in the front rank of dangerous threats to Uncle Sam.

Court News

Common Pleas Entries

In two actions filed in common pleas court by the Pottery Savings & Loan Co. against J. A. Cummings and others, and also Earl Woliam and others, sales have been confirmed by the court. Deeds ordered and decrees of distribution entered.

In similar actions filed by the Perpetual Savings & Loan Co., judgment has been entered against William R. Jarvis and others for $2,049.96 and costs and against Everett L. McGarry and others for $2,857.61 and costs. Decree foreclosing a mortgage and an order of sale has been entered in each case.

Leave has been granted by Judge W. F. Lomas to file an amended petition on or before June 29 in the damage action filed by Berholz Chevrolet Inc. against A. J. Heron.

Sale has been confirmed, deed ordered and decree of distribution entered in the suit of William Ganas against Theodore Ganas of East Liverpool.

Suit to recover $2,000 claimed to be owing on a note executed Dec. 19, 1925, secured by mortgage on 69.47 acres, section 10, Washington township, has been filed in court by W. B. Moore as administrator of the estate of Emma Scott Hannum against Joseph Hannum, and with The North Branch Coal Co., being made a party defendant. The latter, the petition shows, may claim some interest in the property, and is asked to set up its lien. It is held, however, in the petition that the mortgage to secure the note is the best lien. Foreclosure is asked upon final hearing of the issue.

Ollie Boltinghouse, Grant st., Newell, W. Va., has been named defendant in a divorce action filed in common pleas court here by his wife Goldie Anne Boltinghouse. Wilful absence for over a period of three years and gross neglect of duty are given as grounds for the action. The couple was married at Wellsburg, W. Va., Jan. 8, 1922.

THE CHALLENGE OF LOVE

by WARWICK DEEPIING

CHAPTER FORTY-ONE

"Hard facts and a war-chest, Boxall. Paragraphs are so much pulp without them. Dr. Wolfe here is the man to deal with facts. The money is with me. Now, look you here, we are going to raise the red flag at you blowing your trumpet outside the walls of Jericho."

Boxall's hands were together, eager, expectant. He licked his lips as though he tasted the sweet gall of the ink he was to use.

"You can rely on me, Mr. Crabbe. I know how to handle a paper and to push a grievance. There's something about the stinging-nettle about me."

There was. The man had ability, and knew how to gloat over a scathing sentence.

"Look you, Boxall. We have seen Mr. Wolfe's facts. We have not to declare war, fire our first shot."

"Find a plain man with right-ious decent in him, sir."

"Bah! put it plainer, some cantankerous curmudgeon who likes to brag as long as no one can get at him with a stick. I have got a man to start with, a sulky, cross-grained beast."

The ends of Boxall's mouth curved upwards, and little wrinkles showed about his eyes.

"All right."

"A cobbler. Old Burgess of George Lane."

"One of the people—pre-cisely."

Wolfe's eyes traveled from one to the other. He was like a captain of free-lancers, a man of the sword, waiting while these two shrewd lean-jawed men of the closet whispered and schemed together.

"We'll make it. Mr. Crabbe."

"A nuisance. You have no doubts about that, John Wolfe?"

"None. I was down there yesterday."

"It's a legitimate case?"

"You can put your consciences into it."

Boxall's nostrils contracted. He looked thinner, hungrier, more voracious.

"Where's property is it, Mr. Crabbe?"

"Turrell's."

"The Amalekite! We will smite him."

A letter of complaint to the Board of Guardians, eh? A full report in 'The Clarion.' Followed if necessary by public-spirited revelations."

Joshua Crabbe took snuff, deliberately and with sly satisfaction.

"That will make a beginning, eh? Throw down the hat!"

"And the man Burgess?"

"He is waiting in my study. We will have him in and concoct that letter."

Kolfe left to them the handling of Burgess the cobbler, and the writing of that letter.

Joshua Crabbe dined at the old-fashioned hour of twelve, and it was twenty o'clock when Wolfe returned to his room. He walked round to the back of the white house and as he unfastened the yard door he heard the impatient stamping of a horse on the bricks of the yard.

The green gates, swinging apart, showed him old John Munday sitting on an upturned box and holding Jess's horse, Turpin, by the bridle. The horse was saddled, and he had been groomed till his coat shone like the gloss on a new silk hat.

Wolfe imagined that John Munday had brought a message from Moor Farm.

"Hallo, John. Nothing wrong, I hope?"

"No, sir. Not as I know of, sir."

He rose, felt in his pocket, and brought out a rather crumpled letter. He had a solemn, ape-like face, and innocent, blinking blue eyes.

"I be to leave the 'oss, sir."

Wolfe smothered his surprise. Letter was in Jess's bold and un-academic writing:

"Mr. Wolfe is coming up the hill. I—I can't see him. I'm going out on the moor," said Jess.

"Dear John: I have sent you Turpin. He is mine, and I want you to have him. You have ridden him, and you know his little whims and moods. Mother is a dear. Do take him, and don't be proud. You know what I mean."

"Jess."

Wolfe sent John Munday down to "The Crooked Billet" for some bread and cheese and beer, and mounting Turpin, he rode out for Moor Farm.

This act of Jess's had touched him very deeply. It was the generous impulse of the child, sanctioned by the sympathy of the woman. But Wolfe felt that he could not take the horse, even though his refusal might pain Jess for the moment.

Mary Maseall, sitting in a basket chair under the shade of one of the cypresses, heard quick footsteps brushing across the grass. Glancing up from the work in her lap, she saw Jess before her, face flushed, her straw hat in her hand, her bosom rising and falling with swift deep breaths.

"Why, what is it, child?"

"Mr. Wolfe is coming up the hill. I was at the white gate and saw him."

"Well, Jess—"

"He is riding Turpin. I—I can't see him. I'm going out on the moor."

Sudden panic had seized her, and she looked elf-like with wild eyes and wind-tossed hair. Mary Maseall glanced at her gravely, and was mute. Jess was at the age when the impulses of the child bring sudden flashes of alarm to the cheeks of the woman. Her self-consciousness, but half-awakened, suffered some boisterous impulse to slip forth, and then blushed for it and recoiled in hot confusion. Two selves still lived in Jess, two beings who talked different languages and thought different thoughts.

Mary Maseall understood. She could remember much the same outbursts of enthusiasm, the same moments of strange panic, the desire of the soft-skinned, sensitive, and newly-awakened self to flee away and hide.

"I will see John, Jess."

"Oh, do, Mother."

Down at the farm Wolfe was sitting beside Jess's mother under the shade of the cypresses. He had turned Turpin into the stable for little Bob Munday to unsaddle him, and had brought out a chair from the house. Mary Maseall's placid hands were busy with her needle-work. She had the restful charm of a ready listener. Her eyes were eyes that a man could look into without reserve. He might see laughter there, a teasing shrewdness, but never shallow scorn.

"So you won't take the horse, John?"

He leant forward with his elbows on his knees, staring at the moor.

"No. Where is Jess?"

Mary Maseall turned the cloth she was hemming, and scrutinized it with her head slightly on one side. Then she glanced straight at Wolfe.

"You are quite boyish at times, John."

"Oh!"

"I wonder whether you know anything about—women."

"I don't know. Perhaps not. Why?"

"You rush along so, pushing things out of the way. You are so terrifically in earnest. Well, the child's had a panic."

"Who, Jess?"

"Yes."

"You mean—"

"Now, don't you breathe a word. It's better for me to tell you. She saw you coming, and ran to hide on the moor."

Wolfe looked troubled.

Wolfe turned in his chair, and looked straight at her. Finally, he said:

"All take Turpin."

"John, you've got understanding."

(To Be Continued)

VANCOUVER, B. C.—To the victor belongs the spoils, but he does not always get to keep them. Pete Towson, seven, won all his brother's marbles. They became angry and chased Pete up a tree. Unable to reach him, they got an axe and chopped down the 25-foot spruce. Pete fell with the tree and suffered a smashed thigh.

Parrot Heiress

Here is one parrot that can use her vocal powers to good purpose—she can ask for anything, and get it. The bird, formerly owned by William H. Hepler, of Los Angeles, was bequeathed to Mrs. Emma Hunter when Mr. Hepler died. To insure "Polly's" future, Hepler left Mrs. Hunter $1,000 in his will for the bird's upkeep.

NEWMAN GROVE, Neb.—A stroke of lightning which struck the residence of I. W. King, so affected the electric clock in the home of Arnold Widgren a half block away that the hands of the time-piece started going counter-clockwise. Until it was fixed some time

Buddy Poppies To Be Sold by V. F. W.

"Plans for the distribution of Buddy Poppies" in Salem on May 27 in the twelfth annual buddy poppy sale conducted by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S. were completed today, according to an announcement by L. Frost, commander of Post No. 892.

"As an organization dedicated to the administration of relief among veterans and their families, we must depend upon the proceeds of the 1933 Buddy Poppy sale as a means of providing this necessary relief until the present business depression is lifted and employment conditions are once again normal in this community."

"Nearly three thousand units of our organization, scattered from coast to coast, rely upon the proceeds of this undertaking as a method of securing funds for local relief activities. The rules and regulations governing the nationwide sale of Buddy Poppies confine the disbursement of these proceeds exclusively to relief and welfare activities. In nearly every V. F. W. community, the local Post has long since exhausted its 1932 relief fund in an effort to cope with existing poverty among unemployed veterans and their families.

"As in the past, one cent from each Buddy Poppy that adorns the lapel of patriotic citizens on Memorial day will be diverted to the support and maintenance of the V. F. W. National Home for widows and orphans of deceased or totally disabled veterans, at Eaton Rapids, Michigan.

TORONTO, Ont.—Good mines in Ontario reached peak production for the year in March with a total recovery valued at $4,059,248, an increase of $443,594 over the $3,615,354 reported for February.

Little Deportee

Hedwig Wengerek, though only seven, is already a world traveler. Here she is shown with a stewardess aboard the S. S. President Harding as she sailed from New York as a deportee. Hedwig was taken to Los Angeles via Spain, Central America and Mexico by a man who claimed to have adopted her in Germany. She is being sent back to her real father's home.

Buddy Poppies To Be Sold by V. F. W.

"Plans for the distribution of Buddy Poppies" in Salem on May 27 in the twelfth annual buddy poppy sale conducted by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S. were completed today, according to an announcement by L. Frost, commander of Post No. 892.

"As an organization dedicated to the administration of relief among veterans and their families, we must depend upon the proceeds of the 1933 Buddy Poppy sale as a means of providing the necessary relief until the present business depression is lifted and employment conditions are once again normal in this community."

"Nearly three thousand units of our organization, scattered from coast to coast, rely upon the proceeds of this undertaking as a method of securing funds for local relief activities. The rules and regulations governing the nationwide sale of Buddy Poppies confine the disbursement of these proceeds exclusively to relief and welfare activities. In nearly every V. F. W. community, the local Post has long since exhausted its 1932 relief fund in an effort to cope with existing poverty among unemployed veterans and their families."

"As in the past, one cent from each Buddy Poppy that adorns the lapel of patriotic citizens on Memorial day will be diverted to the support and maintenance of the V. F. W. National Home for widows and orphans of deceased or totally disabled veterans, at Eaton Rapids, Michigan."

TORONTO, Ont.—Gold mines in Ontario reached peak production for the year in March with a total recovery valued at $4,659,248, an increase of $443,594 over the $3,615,354 reported for February.

THE GREAT ATLANTIC & PACIFIC TEA CO.

Pie Plant Pete and Arliss
Film on Program at State

TODAY brings to the State theater that singer of hill-billy songs and player of the guitar and mouth organ—Pie Plant Pete. . . . Most of you have heard the radio singer over WTAM, Cleveland, in the late afternoon. . . . He has been on that program for more than a year now. . . .

The screen feature is a good one—George Arliss in "The Working Man". . . . Bette Davis, Hardie Albright, Theodore Newton, J. Farrell MacDonald, and Gordon Westcott all play important roles. . . .

Arliss Has Fine Role

Mr. Arliss seems to be the enigma of the screen. . . . Always known as the aristocrat and gentleman of movies he is at his best in parts that allow him to have his old pipe, his hair untidy, and wearing a miserable old suit. . . . Remember him in "The Millionaire"?—he was perfect yest and most comfortable looking when he was able to play the pranks and games he liked, eat what he liked and do what he liked. . . . Such a role has Arliss in "The Working Man". . . .

As "Reeves", grumpy bachelor and head of a great manufacturing concern who goes fishing for a vacation only to find that the most exciting business battle of his life—against his own firm—Arliss displays all the qualities that have made him one of the foremost actors of the screen. . . .

Fine Cast Supports Star

It is a story filled with humor and amusing situations, replete with real drama, played by a cast of all-star calibre. . . .

Miss Davis is featured in the principal supporting role as the gay, reckless-living orphan of the man who was the chief business competitor of Arliss. . . . Albright plays the part of a rather conceited young man who tries to run the business while his "boss" is on his long awaited fishing trip. . . . This film is one that should interest the whole family. . . .

BERLIN, Conn.—When a setting of 10 eggs hatched out recently, Thomas Miranti discovered he had nine normal chickens and one with four legs and two tails. Miranti says the chicken favors the front pair of legs, but flicks both pair of leg indiscriminately.

CRANSTON, R. I.—When Antonio F. Jones, 88-year-old wood-chopper, died recently, his estate was valued at only $1,500. Since that time 13 bank accounts opened by him under assumed names and totaling $17,000, have been discovered.

Is this going to be just another DRUNKEN YEAR? You know you can't quit without treatment. Information literature free. SHADYSIDE SANITARIUM (FORMERLY KELLY INSTITUTE) 355 Shady Ave., Pittsburgh, Pa. Em. 9235
